

The Tiger
Who Came to Tea

A blurry photograph showing a window with four panes, viewed through crumpled paper. The window is the central focus, with light streaming through the panes. The paper in the foreground is heavily crumpled and textured, creating a soft, out-of-focus effect. The overall scene is dimly lit, with the light from the window providing the primary illumination.

Once...

...Sophie and her Mummy were having tea

Suddenly there was a ring at the door.

Sophie's MUMMY said, "I wonder who that can be"

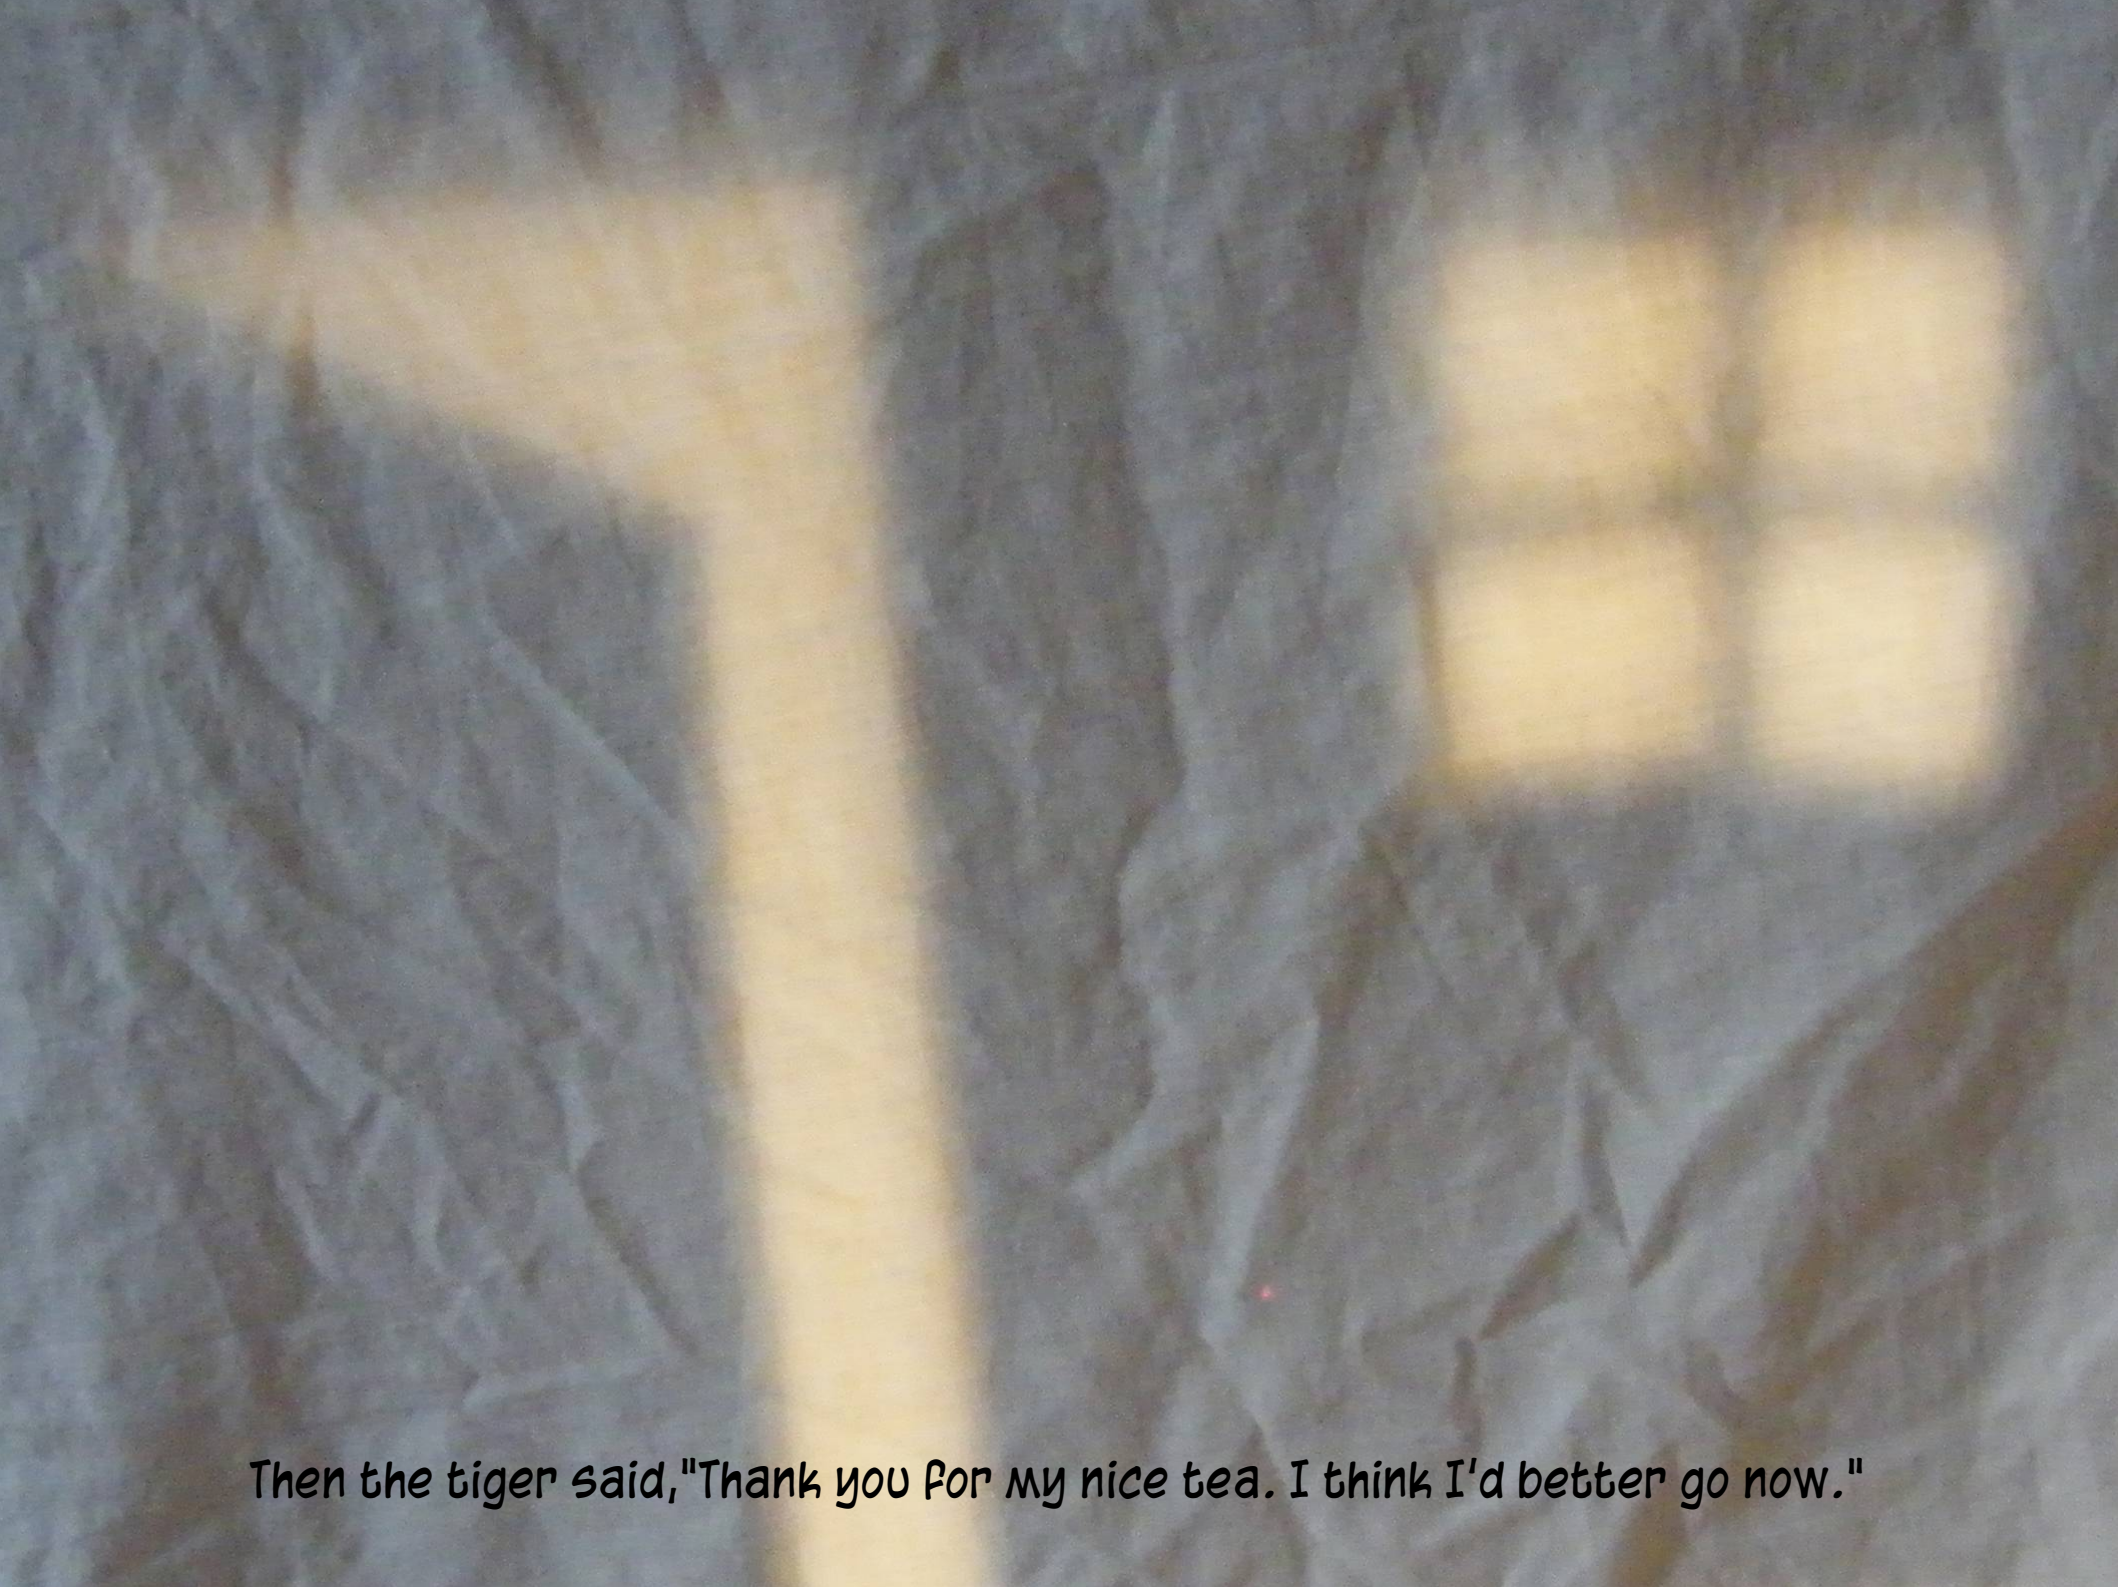

Sophie opened the door and there was a big, furry, stripy Tiger
The tiger said, "Excuse me, but I'm very hungry. Do you think I could have tea with you?"

A blurry photograph showing a dark-colored cup or mug resting on a light-colored, wrinkled surface. The image is out of focus, with the cup appearing as a dark, indistinct shape against the lighter, textured background. The lighting is somewhat dim, and the overall quality is low, suggesting a candid or accidental shot.

Sophie's MUM offered the tiger something to eat...

*... but the tiger ate everything at the table
...and then ate everything in the house!*

A blurry, low-angle shot of a room. In the center, a doorway or window is brightly lit, creating a vertical beam of light. To the right, a window with four panes is visible, also brightly lit. The walls and ceiling are textured and appear to be made of a light-colored material, possibly paper or fabric. The overall scene is dimly lit, with the primary light sources being the doorway and the window.

Then the tiger said, "Thank you for my nice tea. I think I'd better go now."

Sophie's Daddy came home.

Sophie's Daddy could see there was no supper.
Sophie and her Mummy explained what had happened.

So they all put their coats on and went out to a café.
The next morning Sophie and her Mum went shopping for more food, but the Tiger never returned.

... including Sophie and her Mummy!

The End
